

Their Story Is Our Story

How can you help refugees here in the Valley?

They are fleeing war-torn countries, living in camps, and seeking a better life. Join us as we discuss solutions for welcoming and helping refugees.

Hear from attorneys who advocate for the rights of the displaced; see an exhibit of photographs from award-winning photographers, and view a documentary produced by refugee advocates. Find out how you can make a real-life difference for someone who has escaped horror and death and is trying to start over. Speak with refugee advocates to know what you can do, whether the action is large or small. Learn how the refugee story really is our story, too, as we see beyond the headlines and news reports to the humanity we share.

Panel presenters include:

- Jim McConkie, founder of Refugee Justice League
- Julianna Larson, VP, Somali American United Council of Arizona
- Christy Bishop, local refugee advocate, TSOS

Photography exhibit includes work from:

- Christophe Mortier, award-winning portrait photographer, France
- Lindsay Silsby, TSOS portrait photographer, United Kingdom
- Kristi Burton, documentary and portrait photographer, Utah
- Christian Suhr, award-winning film producer, Denmark

“We’ve Got Your Back”
*Documentary screening, photo exhibit, and panel
discussion*

Wed., Feb. 26, 4 p.m.

110 Applied Arts Pavilion
(Black Box Theater)
ASU Polytechnic campus

Event sponsors include
Their Story Is Our Story
(<https://tsosrefugees.org/>)
and the Social Science
faculty at ASU
Polytechnic campus.

Documentary produced by Stephanie Oilerton of SmartWhale Productions for the Refugee Justice League.