Master of Counseling - Outstanding Student Award
Counseling and Counseling Psychology
Arizona State University

About the Fellowship

The Master of Counseling Outstanding Student Award was created to support students pursing their Master’s degree in clinical mental health counseling.

The award is issued in the amount of $1,000. Students are eligible for only one award.

Who May Apply

Students who have made outstanding contributions to their program, campus, and/or profession are encouraged to apply. Students must have successfully completed at least two semesters (i.e., second-year status) with a minimum GPA of 3.5.

Application Requirements and Deadline

To apply please submit a:

1. One page letter of interest outlining your contributions to the program, campus, and/or profession (you must obtain your advisor’s signature on this document).

2. Copy of your current CV.

Applications are due to Rebecca Reining at Rebecca.Reining@asu.edu by January 6, 2017.

Review Process

All complete applications received by the deadline will be reviewed by the Counseling and Counseling Psychology Awards Committee. The committee will consider the following criteria in evaluating each application:

1. Student’s contributions, commensurate with year in the program.

2. Student’s GPA.
