The Faculty of Counseling and Counseling Psychology (CCP) in the College of Integrative Sciences and Arts on the Tempe campus at Arizona State University invites applications for a Clinical Assistant/Associate Professor with an anticipated start date of August 2017. The Faculty offers a master of counseling program in clinical mental health counseling that is accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), and a doctoral program in counseling psychology that is accredited by the American Psychological Association (APA). ASU is a Carnegie Classification research university with very high research activity (RU/VH). In addition to exceptional scholarship, ASU emphasizes high-quality teaching and professional service. Complete information about the programs and faculty can be found at the following website: https://cisa.asu.edu/graduate/ccp.

CCP is committed to diversity, equity, and social justice. The CCP Faculty believes that an essential part of graduate level training is valuing individuals from marginalized groups with regard to gender, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity, culture, language, religion, spirituality, social class status, ability, and age.

The non-tenure track Clinical Assistant/Associate professor will coordinate the clinical training activities of the CACREP-accredited master’s program, supervise clinical training in our state-of-the-art Counselor Training Center, teach the internship course and related courses in the master’s program, advise master’s degree students, and engage in professional service. The position reports to the head of the Faculty of CCP. This position is a fixed-term, benefits-eligible, academic-year appointment with no tenure implications; depending on qualifications, a multi-year contract may be possible. Clinical faculty have the possibility of long-term careers at ASU based on continued excellent performance, the needs of the institution, and the availability of funding. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience. Official transcripts required prior to first day of employment.

Required Qualifications:
- Doctorate in Counselor Education from a CACREP-accredited doctoral program at the time of appointment
- License-eligible as a Licensed Professional Counselor in Arizona
- Evidence of teaching excellence
- Clinical supervision experience
- Demonstrated commitment to promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion

Desired Qualifications:
- Experience coordinating internship and practicum
- Eligibility for Qualified Supervisor credential in Arizona
- Experience developing community partnerships to enhance internship placement opportunities
- Active involvement in counseling-related professional organizations (e.g., ACA, ACES)
- Experience as CACREP liaison; ability to demonstrate knowledge of 2016 CACREP Standards
- Record of scholarly activity

Application Procedure:
To apply, visit https://cisa.asu.edu/jobs and upload your application as one combined .pdf document under job number 11809. Only electronic submissions will be reviewed. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Applications must contain:

1. A letter of interest addressing required and desired qualifications
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Evidence of teaching excellence
4. Contact information for three professional references (name, title, e-mail, and phone number)

The application deadline is 12/27/2016 at 5pm; and if not filled, then every Friday thereafter until the search is closed. A background check is required prior to employment. For technical assistance with your application contact cisajobs@asu.edu, for position-related questions contact Search Committee Chair Dr. Jennifer Pereira at jkpereir@asu.edu.

General Information: Arizona State University is a comprehensive public research university recently named #1 in the United States for innovation, followed by #2 Stanford and #3 MIT. We measure our success not by whom we exclude, but rather by whom we include and how they succeed; advancing research and discovery of public value; and assuming fundamental responsibility for the economic, social, cultural and overall health of the communities we serve. ASU’s College of Integrative Sciences and Arts is home to innovative teachers who are guided by educational access, student success, applied learning, and interdisciplinary inquiry. We understand there are many paths to achieving a university education, and we build undergraduate and graduate degree programs and pathways that are flexible and relevant for a rapidly changing world.
