Clinical Faculty & Director of Counselor Training Center (CTC)
Counseling and Counseling Psychology (#11887)
ANNOUNCEMENT OF VACANCY

The Faculty of Counseling and Counseling Psychology (CCP) in the College of Integrative Sciences and Arts on the Tempe Campus at Arizona State University invites applications for the position of a Clinical Faculty and Director of the Counselor Training Center (CTC) with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2017, on a fiscal-year contract. CCP offers a Ph.D. program in Counseling Psychology that is accredited by the American Psychological Association (APA) and a Master of Counseling program in Clinical Mental Health Counseling that is accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). The CTC is a state-of-the-art counseling clinic that serves clients from the culturally-diverse local and university communities. Counselors- and psychologists-in-training work with individuals, couples, and families under the supervision of clinical faculty members. The CTC supports three complementary functions: clinical service provision, high quality training, and innovative process and outcome research.

Arizona State University has developed a model for the New American University, creating an institution that is committed to excellence, access, and impact. Ranked #1 on the Most Innovative Schools list by U.S. News & World Report, ASU provides a vibrant intellectual community, pursues research that contributes to the public good, and assumes major responsibility for the economic, social, and cultural vitality of the communities it serves. Enabling Student Success, Social Embeddedness, and Conducting Use-Inspired Research are three of ASU’s design aspirations that are central guides for the mission of the CCP Counseling Training Center.

The CCP faculty believes that essential to training at both the masters and doctoral levels are understanding and appreciating all aspects of human diversity, including gender, sexual/affectual orientation, race, ethnicity, culture, language, religion, spirituality, socioeconomic status, ability, and age. The program has a long history of commitment to diversity and multicultural competency development and actively seeks diverse faculty, staff, and students. Information about the programs and faculty can be found at https://cisa.asu.edu/graduate/ccp.

Successful candidates will be expected to provide administrative leadership for and direct the activities of the CTC; teach practicum and provide clinical supervision for counselors- and psychologists-in-training; collaborate with legal counsel, student affairs professionals, other services across campus, and state agencies to coordinate effective and compliant services; develop and maintain up-to-date technology, resources, and databases for optimal training and research capability and administrative purposes; develop and administer center protocols and procedures in keeping with current best practices for counseling and training centers; create community partnerships to develop new avenues for referral systems; bear responsibility for the center’s emergency and crisis response procedures and referral systems; prepare reports and proposals as needed; and provide service to the program, college, university, profession, and community as appropriate. The position reports to the Faculty Head for CCP.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- Doctorate or terminal degree from an APA-accredited Counseling Psychology program
- Eligibility for immediate licensure as a Psychologist in Arizona
- Eligibility for registration as a Clinical Supervisor in Arizona
- Minimum five years of combined post-doctoral experience with at least three years providing counseling services and clinical supervision, and at least two years of administrative experience in a counseling center/agency
- Knowledge of HIPAA regulations and policies
- Knowledge of APA and CACREP accreditation standards
- Demonstrated commitment to promoting equity, inclusiveness, and social justice in administrative, clinical, and academic roles
- Excellent communication and collaboration skills

DESIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- Record of scholarly activity including publications in peer-reviewed journals
- Evidence of excellence in teaching, supervision, and/or mentoring
- Memberships in professional psychology and counseling organizations

This is a benefits-eligible, non-tenure track position, renewable on an academic year basis contingent upon satisfactory performance, availability of resources, and the needs of the university; a multi-year contract may be possible. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience. Background check and official transcripts are required prior to the first day of employment. Course load is determined by the Faculty Head.
Application Procedure:
To apply, visit https://cisa.asu.edu/jobs and upload your application as one combined .pdf document under job number 11887. Only electronic submissions will be reviewed. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Applications must contain:

1. Cover letter that responds to the stated responsibilities and required and desired qualifications
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Detailed description of administrative, clinical supervision, teaching and training experience
4. Information for three professional references (i.e., name, title/position, e-mail, and phone number)

The application deadline is 03/20/2017 at 5pm; and if not filled, then every Friday thereafter until the search is closed. Please contact cisajobs@asu.edu for all questions regarding this position.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. (See ASU's complete non-discrimination statement at https://asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html; see ASU’s Title IX policy at https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/)

ASU offers applicants an opportunity to voluntarily self-disclose information for the University affirmative action plan; applicants may complete an EEO survey for the position they are applying for online. Information you will need to complete the survey: Job Number: 11887; Job Title: Clinical Faculty and Director of Counselor Training Center, Counseling and Counseling Psychology, College Name: College of Integrative Sciences and Arts.

General Information: Arizona State University is a comprehensive public research university named #1 in the United States for innovation for the second consecutive year, followed by #2 Stanford and #3 MIT. We measure our success not by whom we exclude, but rather by whom we include and how they succeed; advancing research and discovery of public value; and assuming fundamental responsibility for the economic, social, cultural and overall health of the communities we serve. ASU’s College of Integrative Sciences and Arts is home to innovative teachers who are guided by educational access, student success, applied learning, and interdisciplinary inquiry. We understand there are many paths to achieving a university education, and we build undergraduate and graduate degree programs and pathways that are flexible and relevant for a rapidly changing world. To learn more about ASU and the College of Integrative Sciences and Arts go to: http://about.asu.edu/ and http://cisa.asu.edu.

P213532