Lecturer
Major and Career Exploration (#11950)
ANNOUNCEMENT OF VACANCY

Major and Career Exploration in University College on the Tempe campus at Arizona State University invites applications for a Lecturer for the 2017-2018 academic year. The successful candidate will provide instruction in the areas of study that assist students in academic success, selecting a major, and the exploration of career options. Course assignments are at the undergraduate level, and may occur in a variety of modalities (online, on-ground, hybrid), primarily on the Tempe campus. In addition to a typical course load of nine (9) credits a semester, the successful candidate will make significant contributions to projects and service to the department. Course load is determined by the faculty head. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible, non-tenure eligible position renewable on an academic year basis contingent upon satisfactory performance, availability of resources, and the needs of the university. Salary is competitive commensurate with experience. Candidate must reside in Arizona, or be willing to relocate.

Required Qualifications:
- Terminal degree in Psychology or related field, at time of appointment
- Evidence of two years’ post-secondary teaching excellence
- Practical experience in career development
- Excellent English written and verbal communication skills
- Demonstrated interest in and knowledge of issues of human diversity

Desired Qualifications:
- Experience working with first-year college students
- Experience working in academic support programs
- Experience teaching at-risk and/or diverse populations
- Graduate coursework in career development
- Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively in a team environment
- Curriculum development expertise
- Experience teaching online courses

Application Procedure:
To apply, visit https://cisa.asu.edu/jobs and upload your application as one combined .pdf document under job number 11950. Only electronic submissions will be reviewed. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Applications must contain:

1. A letter of interest outlining qualifications and experience as it relates to the position, listing all relevant graduate course work
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Evidence of teaching effectiveness
4. Information for three professional references (their position, title, e-mail, phone number)

The application deadline is 4/26/2017 at 5pm; and if not filled, then every Friday thereafter until the search is closed. Official Transcripts required prior to first day of employment. A background check is required prior to employment. ASU does not pay for travel expenses associated with interviews or relocation for this position. General Information: Arizona State University is a comprehensive public research university named #1 in the United States for innovation for the second consecutive year, followed by #2 Stanford and #3 MIT. We measure our success not by whom we exclude, but rather by whom we include and how they succeed; advancing research and discovery of public value; and assuming fundamental responsibility for the economic, social, cultural and overall health of the communities we serve. ASU’s University College and College of Integrative Sciences and Arts are home to innovative teachers who are guided by educational access, student success, applied learning, and interdisciplinary inquiry. We understand there are many paths to achieving a university education, and we build undergraduate and graduate degree programs and pathways that are flexible and relevant for a rapidly changing world.
