The Science and Mathematics faculty in the College of Integrative Sciences and Arts on the Polytechnic campus at Arizona State University invites applications for an Instructor for the 2017-2018 academic year. The successful candidate will provide instruction in the areas of Sustainable Horticulture and work alongside other applied biology faculty in Science and Mathematics in order to provide students with a solid set of applied biological skills, appropriate to their chosen profession, at Arizona State University. Course assignments are at the graduate/undergraduate levels, and may occur in a variety of modalities (online, on-ground, hybrid), on the Polytechnic campus. The course load is five (5) courses a semester and will be determined by the faculty head. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible, non-tenure eligible position renewable on an academic year basis contingent upon satisfactory performance, availability of resources, and the needs of the university. Salary is competitive commensurate with experience. Candidate must reside in Arizona, or be willing to relocate. For more information please visit https://cisa.asu.edu/.

Required Qualifications:
- Master’s degree from an accredited institution in horticulture or closely related field, at time of appointment
- Two years’ experience teaching undergraduate level sustainable horticulture or equivalent courses
- Evidence of excellent teaching ability

Desired Qualifications:
- PhD from an accredited institution in horticulture or closely related field, or five years of professional industry work experience
- Knowledge and ability to teach lecture, laboratory courses and online courses in sustainable horticulture
- Experience in developing lecturer and laboratory curriculum in applied biology
- Experience in course management and online homework systems such as Blackboard
- Experience working in collaborative environments within and across disciplines

Application Procedure:
To apply, visit https://cisa.asu.edu/jobs and upload your application as one combined .pdf document under job number 11983. Only electronic submissions will be reviewed. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Applications must contain:
1. A letter of interest outlining their scholarly agenda and qualifications and experience as it relates to the position
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Evidence of teaching effectiveness

General Information: Arizona State University is a comprehensive public research university named #1 in the United States for innovation for the second consecutive year, followed by #2 Stanford and #3 MIT. We measure our success not by whom we exclude, but rather by whom we include and how they succeed; advancing research and discovery of public value; and assuming fundamental responsibility for the economic, social, cultural and overall health of the communities we serve. ASU’s College of Integrative Sciences and Arts is home to innovative teachers who are guided by educational access, student success, applied learning, and interdisciplinary inquiry. We understand there are many paths to achieving a university education, and we build undergraduate and graduate degree programs and pathways that are flexible and relevant for a rapidly changing world.
