The Social Science faculty in the College of Integrative Sciences and Arts (CISA) on the Polytechnic Campus at Arizona State University invites applications for a Clinical Assistant/Associate Professor position for the 2018-2019 academic year. This is primarily an instructional position. However, the successful candidate will also serve as the Instruction Leader in our Death and Dying course (ASB 353) sections as well as teach and advise students. ASB 353 typically records a high number of students, thus requiring an Instructional Leader to coordinate and assign different sections to other teaching faculty. We are an interdisciplinary faculty seeking a candidate who can teach across disciplines. Course assignments are at the graduate/undergraduate levels, and may occur in a variety of modalities (online, on-ground, hybrid). Course load is four (4) courses per semester, and the successful candidate will also be expected to participate in service to the institution and profession as appropriate. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible, non-tenure eligible position renewable on an academic year basis contingent upon satisfactory performance, availability of resources, and the needs of the university. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience. The successful candidate must reside in Arizona, or be willing to relocate. For more information please visit https://cisa.asu.edu/.

Required Qualifications:
- Terminal degree in the health sciences or related field with a clinical background
- Evidence of at least two years of teaching excellence at the post-secondary level
- Experience in designing curriculum and creating instructional, assessment materials for courses in the teaching field
- Ability to teach on online learning platforms such as Blackboard
- Ability to teach upper-division courses in program area
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills

Desired Qualifications:
- At least four years of post-secondary teaching experience
- Demonstrated success meeting the needs of diverse student populations and/or reaching out to diverse communities
- Demonstrated success in teaching large online classes
- Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively in a team environment
- Evidence of service and contributions to the profession
- Experience establishing and maintaining community and industry partnerships
