The Interdisciplinary Humanities and Communication faculty in the College of Integrative Sciences and Arts on the Polytechnic Campus at Arizona State University invites applications for a Clinical Assistant Professor for the 2018-2019 academic year. The successful candidate will provide instruction in the areas of the history of engineering and the history of technology and/or science, as well as develop courses in related areas of candidate expertise in accordance with programmatic needs to engage audiences of major and non-major undergraduates at Arizona State University. The successful candidate will be expected to play a significant leadership role in the ongoing creation, delivery, and administration of our undergraduate major in the History of Science, Ideas, and Innovation. Course assignments are at the graduate/undergraduate levels, and may occur in a variety of modalities (online, on-ground, hybrid). The course load is determined by the faculty head and typically consist of four (4) courses a semester. The successful candidate will also be expected to participate in service to the institution and profession as appropriate. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible, non-tenure eligible position renewable on an academic year basis contingent upon satisfactory performance, availability of resources, and the needs of the university. Salary is competitive commensurate with experience. Candidate must reside in Arizona, or be willing to relocate. For more information please visit https://cisa.asu.edu/.

Required Qualifications:

- Terminal degree in History of Technology, History of Science, Science and Technology Studies, History, or related field at time of appointment
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness
- Excellent English written and spoken communication skills

Desired Qualifications:

- Demonstrated success meeting the needs of diverse student populations and/or reaching out to diverse communities
- Demonstrated potential to teach undergraduate courses in the history of engineering, the history of technology/science, and related topics
- Willingness and ability to develop history courses in candidate’s broad area(s) of expertise, aimed at non-history students, especially those in engineering and science majors common at the Polytechnic campus (e.g. engineering, automotive systems engineering, robotics, mechanical systems engineering, software engineering, information technology, biological sciences)
- Willingness and ability to develop upper-level history courses in candidate’s broad area(s) of expertise aimed at undergraduate majors in History and the History of Science, Ideas, and Innovation
- Experience related to administering programs or events
- Research publications related to profession
- Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively in a team environment

Application Procedure:

To apply, visit https://cisa.asu.edu/jobs and upload your application as one combined pdf document under job number 12238. Only electronic submissions will be reviewed. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Applications must contain:

1. A letter of interest outlining qualifications, experience, research areas and expertise, and teaching interests as related to the position
2. Curriculum vitae
3. One-page statement of teaching philosophy
4. List of possible course ideas that could be developed and delivered to appeal to major and non-major undergraduates
5. Evidence of teaching effectiveness
6. Information for three professional references (their position, title, e-mail, phone number)

The application deadline is 1/19/2018 at 5pm; and if not filled, then every Friday thereafter until the search is closed. Official Transcripts required prior to first day of employment. A background check is required prior to employment. For technical assistance with your application contact cisahr@asu.edu, for position-related questions contact Dr. Eric Nystrom, Search Committee Chair (eric.nystrom@asu.edu).

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. (See ASU's complete non-discrimination statement at https://asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html; see ASU's Title IX policy at https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/)
ASU offers applicants an opportunity to voluntarily self-disclose information for the University affirmative action plan; applicants may complete an EEO survey for the position they are applying for online. Information you will need to complete the survey: Job Number: 12238, Job Title: Clinical Assistant Professor, Interdisciplinary Humanities and Communication Name: College of Integrative Sciences and Arts

General Information: Arizona State University is a comprehensive public research university named #1 in the United States for innovation for the second consecutive year, followed by #2 Stanford and #3 MIT. We measure our success not by whom we exclude, but rather by whom we include and how they succeed; advancing research and discovery of public value; and assuming fundamental responsibility for the economic, social, cultural and overall health of the communities we serve. ASU’s College of Integrative Sciences and Arts is home to innovative teachers who are guided by educational access, student success, applied learning, and interdisciplinary inquiry. We understand there are many paths to achieving a university education, and we build undergraduate and graduate degree programs and pathways that are flexible and relevant for a rapidly changing world. To learn more about ASU and the College of Integrative Sciences and Arts go to: http://about.asu.edu/ and http://cisa.asu.edu/.