The Department of Writers’ Studio faculty in the College of Letters and Sciences at the Downtown Phoenix campus of Arizona State University invite applications for Faculty Associate(s) to begin in Fall 2016. Instruct and engage students in rigorous, online first-year composition curriculum in the Writers’ Studio. Work collaboratively with Clinical Assistant Professor and Course Coordinators to provide an engaging online learning environment. Communicate regularly with coordinators and students. Create instructional material to interpret and explain course curriculum.

This recruitment is to establish a pool of applicants available for teaching the 2016-2017 academic year. Faculty Associate positions are one semester, non-benefits-eligible, fixed-term appointments with no tenure implications, not to exceed .40 FTE. The number of courses is contingent upon unit needs, funding and sufficient enrollment. Salary is based upon qualifications and assigned teaching load. A background check is required prior to employment.

Required Qualifications:
- Master’s Degree in Rhetoric and Composition or in a related field
- 2 years post-secondary experience teaching first-year composition courses
- Evidence of excellent teaching ability
- Experience using technology to teach composition courses
- Applicants who are not native speakers of English must provide evidence of having received a minimum score of 55 on either the SPEAK test or the TSE.

Desired Qualifications:
- Doctoral Degree in Rhetoric and Composition or related to field.
- Experience teaching multimodal composition
- Evidence of professional development activities

Application Procedure:
To apply, visit https://cls.asu.edu/jobs/fa and upload your application as one combined .pdf document under job number 11606. Only electronic submissions will be reviewed. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Applications must contain:

1. A letter of application addressing required and desired qualifications
2. Current curriculum vitae
3. One page statement of teaching philosophy
4. Copies of two sets teaching evaluations
5. Unofficial graduate transcripts
6. SPEAK test or TSE score (if applicable)
7. Information for three professional references (their position, title, e-mail, phone number)

The application deadline is 06/17/2016 at 5pm; and if not filled, then every Friday beginning the week thereafter through the fiscal year (2016) based on the needs of the academic unit, and as needed for each semester period. If you have questions, email: SLSjobs@asu.edu.

General Information: Arizona State University is a comprehensive public research university recently named #1 in the United States for innovation, followed by #2 Stanford and #3 MIT. We measure our success not by whom we exclude, but rather by whom we include and how they succeed; advancing research and discovery of public value; and assuming fundamental responsibility for the economic, social, cultural and overall health of the communities we serve. ASU’s College of Letters and Sciences is home to innovative teachers who are guided by educational access, student success, applied learning, and interdisciplinary inquiry. We understand there are many paths to achieving a university education, and we build undergraduate and graduate degree programs and pathways that are flexible and relevant for a rapidly changing world.
